Horse premises must be registered by 1st May

Includes studs, shows, sales, vets.

The Minister for Agriculture, Food and the Marine, Simon Coveney, TD, has signed into law, a new order to require anyone who is the owner/person in charge of any premises in which horses or other equines (such as donkeys, ponies, etc.) are kept, to register their premises with the Department.

The Minister explained that the purpose of registration is simply to ensure that the Department has a full picture of where horses are located, so that it can alert owners quickly in the event of a contagious disease outbreak, quickly implement disease control measures and give advice on appropriate precautionary, containment and control measures as soon as possible.

Registration is through local Department regional offices. Application forms may be obtained from the Department's regional offices or from the Department's Animal Health Division by calling 01-6072466 or from the Department's website: www.agriculture.gov.ie/animalhealthwelfare/animalwelfare/registrationofpremisesanimals/registrationofhorsepremises/

From 1st May 2012, it will be against the law to keep a horse (or other equine) on a premises that is not registered with the Department.

Welcome to the latest edition of HSI Breeder Magazine. 2011 ended with a bang, when Dermott Lennon and the Irish-bred Loughview Lou-Lou, owned and bred by Judith Sossick, won the Grand Prix at Olympia. This edition of the magazine features an interview with Judith Sossick, which I think most breeders will find very interesting.

The magazine also contains a feature on Ted and Helen Walsh, breeders of the gelding Lenamore (ISH) by Sea Crest (ID C1) who has achieved so much in his long career. He is an outstanding example of what makes the Irish horse – ability, courage and durability.

Following recent elections we have three new members on the HSI Breeding Sub-Board: Anne Bannon, Wicklow, Sean Kavanagh, Leitrim and Kieran O'Gorman, Cork. Many people in our industry have strong views on breeding but it takes courage to put your name on a ballot paper and face the judgement of your peers. I want to wish the new members well, along with chairman Jim Beecher and new vice-chairman Paddy Joe Foy.

The magazine is packed full of information to help you make your breeding decisions in 2012. It is our role to provide information but yours to make the decisions. While breeding will always be a gamble, you can substantially improve your odds by studying all the information available before you make your decision. In this regard, Horse Sport Ireland's new online database, CapallOir, is hugely significant. I would advise any breeder to use this tool to help in your decision-making process. The days when breeders have to rely on hearsay and glossy brochures are gone – the facts are now at your fingertips.

Loughview Lou-Lou's five star performance

HSI Breeder Magazine spoke to Antrim's Judith Sossick, owner and breeder of Loughview Lou-Lou (ISH), following the Irish-bred mare's spectacular win with Dermott Lennon on board, at London's Olympia Grand Prix in December (pictured). HSI Chairman Joe Walsh congratulated Judith and said it was "a brilliant result for Ireland and a great boost for the sector".

Tell us about Loughview Lou-Lou's dam, Loughview Diamond Lucy?

Lucy is a traditional Irish half-bred mare. She has both Irish Draught and Thoroughbred in her pedigree, good sound conformation, a lovely sweet temperament and, best of all, she is a great mother. I broke and rode her as a four-year-old but she was already in foal so she never competed under saddle, however she has been shown successfully with a foal at foot.

Loughview Diamond Lucy represents quite a traditional dam line, being by Jack Of Diamonds. Is this an important part of your breeding programme?

Robert Hampton's Jack of Diamonds was a super stallion and a son of the legendary King of Diamonds. Jack had a wonderful technique over a fence and a lovely temperament.

Is Thoroughbred blood an important part of your breeding programme?

I am very lucky to have the fantastic Robert Hetherington's Cornelscourt (TB) and Brian McNabb's Whistling Top (TB) in Lucy's pedigree. Lucy's damline goes back over 60 years with a well-balanced mix of Thoroughbred and Irish Draught.

Tell us about your breeding goals

My goals are to breed soundness, quality and performance, to be saleable in today's marketplace.

Tell us about Lou-Lou's early years. Did you always know she had potential?

I had great fun with Lou-Lou in the early days. I showed her in-hand as a youngster, under saddle in the hunter classes as a four-year-old and in showjumping classes as a five-year-old at the RUAS. She also competed in loose jumping, working hunter and registered showjumping classes on the national circuit. She won a class in Cavan as a four-year-old and qualified for the Cavan Classic as a five-year-old. No matter what Lou-Lou competed in, we were always in the rosettes. She always was special.

Looking at your current mare herd, nearly all of them have been inspected under HSI's mare inspection programme. What emphasis do you place on the inspections and star ratings for broodmares in terms of your breeding programme?

I am a great advocate of the inspections and star ratings system. If it encourages breeders to improve the quality of their mare herd, it can only be a positive. I think it is a good system in that the average breeder has an achievable goal of a 1* rating without it being necessary to have the expense of a professional rider. It takes a very good horse to achieve 5* rating classification, which is what makes it a special achievement. I hope in years to come that performance sales can be based around these ratings, hopefully adding value to stock.

Does Lou-Lou have any promising siblings on the ground?

Loughview Diamond Clover, by Gabriel Slattery's stallion Captain Clover, is also Grade A but most of Lou-Lou's siblings are younger than her. They too have SJI points and are making their way up through the grades. Some of the mares have been inspected and have gained their relevant star ratings.

Lou-Lou has now gained 5* based on her recent results. How important is this rating for you?

It is quite an achievement to reach 5* level in such a short period at international level and even more amazing to have won each class required in the classification process to reach 5*, so I can only say I am delighted.

Lou-Lou enjoyed huge success as a young horse with Conor Drain in the Irish Sport Horse (ISH) Studbook Showjumping Series. What are your thoughts around the model of devel- ## oping young horses through the series before they go on to international competition?

The ISH Studbook Showjumping Series is a great stepping stone for young horses, to keep them at the same level as our international counterparts with the added bonus of good prize money. Results in the World Breeding Championships at Lanaken show Irish horses are as good as any other.

Tell us what has happened since then

Lou-Lou won the Studbook Series in 2008 and was National Champion. She also represented Ireland at Lanaken, where she qualified for the final. On Ireland's Young Rider team, she won the Grand Prix at Wales and West. She also won several Spring Tour and National Grand Prix classes.

Former World Champion, Dermott Lennon, took up the ride in February and at their first international show, at Maubeuge in May, they won a 1m40 class. She has since won at the CSI 5* shows – Aachen, Dublin, Gijon, Toronto, Geneva and Olympia clocking up one Nations' Cup duty, nine international wins and a further eight top six placings in just eight months, with the highlight being her winning the televised Olympia Grand Prix. It is great to see an Irish rider and an Irish-bred and owned horse being this competitive at the top of the sport.

Do you plan to breed from Lou-Lou in the future?

I originally selected Lou-Lou as a young horse to keep as a future broodmare and decided to compete her for a little while first. Given her potential and showjumping success, her career will be allowed to continue.

Tell us some of her traits

Lou-Lou is a character and everyone who works with her falls in love with her. She has a huge stride, is super quick over the top of a fence and careful with it, which makes her so competitive. She is a super horse, the kind we all want.

Dermott Lennon on Loughview Lou-Lou: "She is a very competitive horse and naturally fast. I was really delighted with the way she jumped. I got her a year ago and she has been steadily progressing since her first win at Maubeuge in France. It's fantastic to see an Irish-bred horse back winning a five-star Grand Prix like this. She was just super."

Event horses

Why we need to breed event horses

William Micklem

The event horse is the ultimate sport horse: the paces and temperament to do a dressage test at advanced level; the gallop, jump and courage to go across country; and the scope, carefulness and soundness to come out again and jump clear in the show jumping. Just as with the recognition now given to human tetrathletes, triathletes, pentathletes and decathletes, these equine athletes are at least the equal of the dressage and jumping specialists, and in many ways better.

More importantly, these all-round event horse qualities, even in smaller quantities, make event horses the ideal sport and pleasure horse for all the activities and levels that the majority of riders require – a majority of riders who are increasingly mounted on less than ideal horses. This is why we should be breeding event type horses.

However, the different commercial value of horses in the three main competition disciplines, dressage, show jumping and eventing, has driven modern sport horse breeding in a different direction.

In general, elite dressage and jumping horses are worth double and triple the value of elite event horses. The same applies to stallions, when an elite dressage or jumping sire is worth five to 15 times the fee of an event type stallion.

This is the root problem facing event riders and breeders today. The financial incentive and marketing momentum behind specialist dressage and jumping horses is such that, in my estimation, it has become the driving force for probably almost 80% of the sport horse breeding world – 80% breeding horses for say a maximum of 10% of riders!

The bottom line is that there are very few people breeding specialist event horses, and yet, breeding more event type horses would be to the undoubted benefit of the sport horse world in general. This benefit includes temperament and willingness, soundness and longevity, flexibility and adaptability, size and type and rider education.

Many specialist dressage and jumping horses often find it difficult to find another role in life, whereas an event horse will usually have another job to do and often at a high level. As Carl Hester, the current European dressage gold medallist, said after watching all the 2010 Badminton tests: "The best of these would win any pure dressage competition at medium and advanced-medium level."

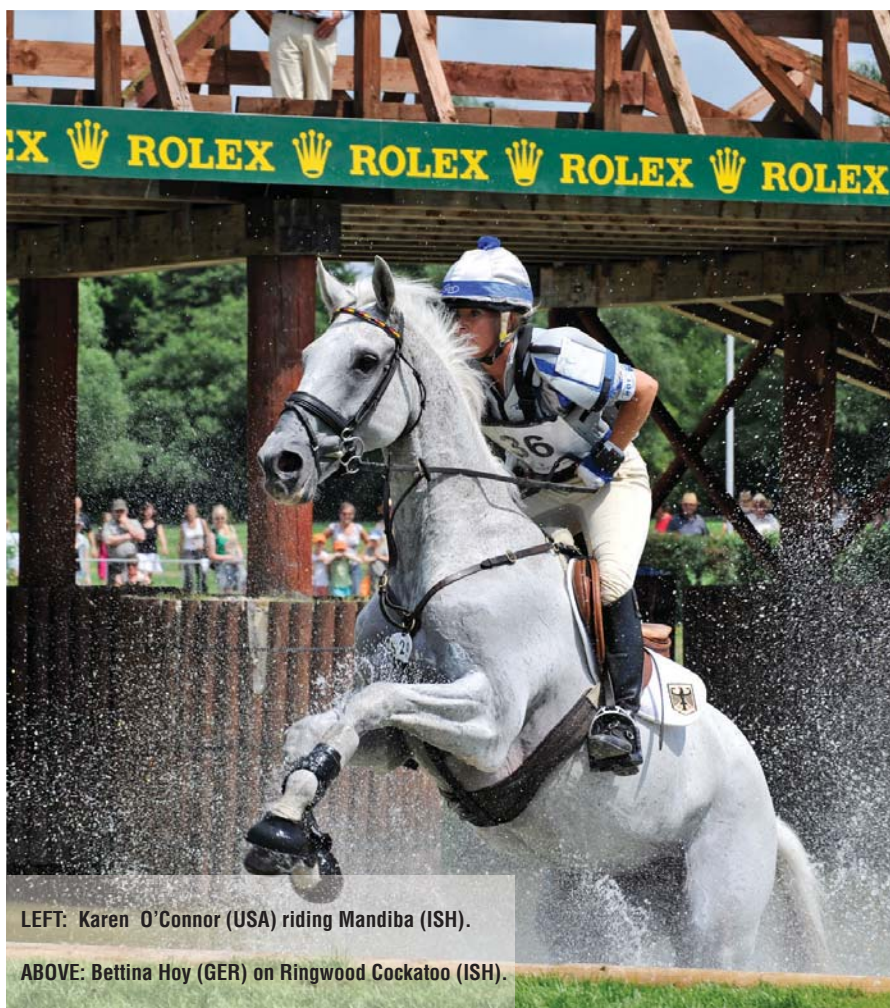

Last November, leading British eventing rider and breeder Ollie Townend spoke of a visit by Carl Hester to his farm. "It was for a Horse & Hound photoshoot. Now I put him on my best horse but it still surprised me when Carl said that he could be a dressage horse. Okay, dressage at our level, I said, but Carl said no – at the highest level!"

Then Ollie recounted a similar situation when Michael Whitaker, the hugely successful British show jumping senior team member, was doing a lecture demonstration with him.

William Micklem accepts the award for Top Irish Sport Horse in WBFSH Eventing Rankings 2010 for Mandiba (ISH) from Jim Beecher, Chairman, HSI Breeding Sub Board.

Michael rode Ollie's horse and finished up saying that, if produced for the job specifically, the horse could be a real jumper.

We should not forget that Mark Todd's double individual Olympic gold medalist Charisma was doing dressage at Prix St George level before eventing and Hand In Glove, the influential French thoroughbred sire and sire of the much-in-demand event sire Jaguar Mail, was both an international dressage and jumping horse.

The multi-discipline possibilities at

“ The multi-discipline possibilities at elite level of one horse or one rider are certainly something that excites me and has always been a major focus of my training and breeding.

elite level of one horse or one rider are certainly something that excites me and has always been a major focus of my training and breeding. In the case of High Kingdom (93.75% TB), ridden by Zara Phillips, I have come very close to breeding a horse that has the potential to be successful at elite level in all three major disciplines. I was also obviously thrilled that our homebred Mandiba was the World Breeding Federation event horse of the year in 2010.

Of course there is a great deal of luck in my breeding achievements but there is also a great deal of planning and intent and ambitious dreams for some youngsters I now have, especially a colt by the thoroughbred Power Blade and two fillies by Puissance, who all have this same huge all-round ability. Puissance, like the thoroughbred, Master Imp, is by the great thoroughbred Imperious.

If one looks at the breeding of the truly great multi-talented horses I have already mentioned above, and also the super elite of modern event horses, it is easy to see the type of quality horse that we should be breeding. I highlight just eight modern horses, seven of them champions at the highest level.

They are the only ones I know that on the same day scored 80% or better in the dressage at 4* level, made a 4* cross-country look like a pony club course, and jumped so easily that a 1.60m fence would be no difficulty:

- Galan De Sauvagerie (72.875% TB, Selle Francais, Nicholas Touzaint)
- Toytown (75% TB type, believed to be Irish, Zara Phillips)
- Supreme Rock (87.5% TB, Irish Sport Horse, Pippa Funnell)
- Ringwood Cockatoo (approximately 75% TB, Irish Sport Horse, Bettina Hoy)
- Butts Abraxas (96.875% TB, Hannoverian, Ingrid Klimke)
- La Biosthetique Sam (75% TB, Baden Wurttemberg, Michael Jung)
- Parklane Hawk (100% TB, British, William Fox-Pitt)
- Butts Avedon (97% TB, Hannoverian, Andreas Dibowski).

NB: Parklane Hawk, winner at Burghley this year, has yet to achieve 80% in the dressage and Butts Avedon, winner at Boekelo this year, has yet to do a 4* cross-country, but I have included them as two of the most outstanding young horses with some exceptional ability in all phases.

The market

Healthy demand for high-quality well-

Sally Parkyn

The sales returns from 2011 may have sent mixed messages to sport horse breeders but, overall, there was cause for optimism. Aside from a couple of marginal exceptions, the sale topping prices exceeded or equalled those of 2010, indicating a healthy demand for the quality Irish horse, albeit confined to ones that have been thoughtfully bred and well produced.

Both Stuart Clarke and Martin Donohoe, from the auction houses at Cavan and Goresbridge, were upbeat about the year as a whole. "Overall, we sold as many horses last year as in any year and, from that point of view, it was good, although we need to get the prices up," Stuart Clarke said: "The international presence was strong throughout the year, with buyers from Greece and Holland proving very good customers, as well as those from Sweden and France."

Martin Donohoe was equally satisfied with his figures. "We were delighted with the Go For Gold sale, as well as our sales at Goresbridge which produced an increased turnover from the previous year," he said.

"If the market produces the horses that are required, then we have no problem selling them. However, I am a little concerned that we are failing in that respect, hence more people go home without spending their money because they will not settle for second best."

Older horses

Once again, the specialist event horse sales dominated the higher returns, producing the year's top prices in both the four-year-old and older horse sectors. Heading these at €47,000 was Donal Barnwell's Asian bound five-year-old gelding by Murphy's Irish Diamond (ID) out of the thoroughbred mare Galballygirl (IRE), by Roselier (FR).

A strong supporter of the sale format, Barnwell commented to HSI's Breeder Magazine: "The Irish horse industry was thrown a lifeline by a very hard-working, passionate team at the Go For Gold sale. The response was overwhelming, and to be the vendor of the top-priced horse was humbling. The biggest prize for me, however, is to see the unfolding of a new era for the Irish horse industry and its people."

In the same age group, a son of Rado-lin (KWPN) sold well at €28,000, while sharing a price tag of €30,000 was a four-year-old event horse by Ramiro B

(BWP) out of Ballynattin Pride (ISH), by Killealy Spring (ISH), together with a five-year-old son of Stormhill Miller (TB).

The latter proved to be the top-priced thoroughbred sired horse of the year, while a daughter of Ghareeb (TB) out of Sky Polly (ISH), by Kildalton King (ID C1), headed the four-year-old equivalent at €20,000. "Many of our buyers cite the increasing lack of thoroughbred blood as a real concern," said Martin Donohoe. "Irish breeders need to look at the formula that has been successful in the past and which still draws our customers."

Three-year-olds

This statement gained weight in the three-year-old group, in which the more traditionally bred horse fared well. Clearly claiming the honours at €18,500 was a gelding by Cavalier Land (ISH) out of the Clover Hill (ID C1) mare Clover Light Girl (ISH). Filling second spot in the annual returns at €14,700 was a son of Loughhoe Guy (ISH) out of Watervalley Dawn Diamond (ISH), by Glidawn Diamond (ID C1), while a Master Imp (TB) gelding out of Carlow Magic (ISH) realised €14,500.

Foals

Foals, on the other hand, painted a totally different picture, as continental bloodlines overrode the returns. The presence of a strong damline also proved significant, and was notably illustrated by the year's sale topper by Arko III (OLD). Selling at €8,000, Co. Armagh breeder Paul Dillon's filly was the second foal out of the jumping mare Revelene (ISH), by Puissance (ISH), a full sister to the international showjumper Revelation (ISH) and an RDS four-year-old winner in her own right as well as the international eventer Portly Ford (ISH).

The importance of the dam's breeding was not lost on her purchaser, Crumlin producer Linda Courtney, who commented afterwards: "She is some model and type, however her breeding was obviously the main attraction. I remember the dam jumping, while of course Arko III (OLD) was a top horse himself."

Growing trend

Another growing trend is the importation of continental semen. The result of this produced several well-sold foals, including the year's second best price (€6,600) for a colt by Chacco-Blue (HOLST) out of Sea Top Lady (ISH), by Lux Z (HANN), and sold by James and John Meade, Co. Clare.

Interestingly, not one foal in Cavan's Elite foal group was by a thoroughbred, as pedigrees weighed heavily in favour of continental bloodlines. According to Stuart Clarke, these trends are set to continue.

"From a breeding angle, the breeder needs to make a plan and has to decide what they want to breed and when they want to sell. The show jumpers are predominantly the best buyers of foals, and seem more prepared to store them than the 'eventers'.

"Therefore, if a breeder wishes to sell as a foal, they probably have to go continental. If, however, they are prepared

Breeders need to decide what they want to breed and when they want to sell to wait (until maybe a three-year-old), they may find there is a lot of interest in traditional breeding at a later age."

As the statistics reveal, the dearth of thoroughbred sired foals is an increasing problem and the returns added to the concern.

Topping the year's figures at €2,350 was a colt by Emperor Augustus (TB) out of Whitewell Cavalier (ISH), by Cavalier Royale (HOLST), while in the Irish Sport Horse division, a filly by Puissance (ISH) out of the well-related Coolmore High Time (ISH), by Horos (TB) sold at a satisfying €5,100.

Disadvantaged Areas Scheme

Genuine horse breeders must be included

Horse Sport Ireland met with senior officials from the Department of Agriculture in relation to the exclusion of horses from the Disadvantaged Areas Scheme. Under this scheme, which is partly funded by the EU, farmers in disadvantaged areas receive an area based payment subject to carrying out a certain amount of farming activity.

The level of activity is generally assessed by the amount of animals a farmer has relative to his area of land. This is referred to as the farmer's stocking density.

The Minister for Agriculture, Food and the Marine announced on budget day last December that horses would be excluded from the calculation to establish the minimum stocking levels for eligibility for payments under the scheme.

This will result in many horse producers being excluded from the scheme.

HSI Chief Executive Damian McDonald said: "The Department is concerned that low value horses are being purchased purely for the purpose of qualifying land for the scheme. They did, however, make it clear that they do not want to exclude bona fide horse breeders."

"HSI is concerned about the exclusion of horses and in particular the precedent this might set. However, we are engaging with the Department to find a resolution to the issue. The production and breeding of horses is a legitimate and long-standing farming activity."

"In order to qualify for this scheme, applicants are required to keep animals for three months and there is some concern about what happens to these horses when the three months are up."

"There will need to be detailed discussions about how to establish the difference between a genuine producer and those who are simply buying horses to qualify for the scheme, but we will continue to engage with the Department to see if a satisfactory formula can be found."

Irish Draught Horse Society IDHS (GB)

Opportunities grow as societies harmonise

The IDHS (GB) updates HSI Breeder Magazine readers on progress

Horse Sport Ireland's (HSI) Breeding Plan was introduced into Britain in July 2010, when we adopted parallel breed register categories. That autumn, Dr Charlotte Moore and Miss Marily Power introduced a group of inspectors to linear profiling.

The 2010 autumn mare tour provided a pilot for the new inspection methods. British inspectors found the linear scoring to be coherent, positive and considerably more objective than the old style score sheets.

The stallion inspections in February 2011 took the society further towards harmonisation, with the introduction of x-rays and endoscopy. Three colts achieved 'Class 1' status, marking a milestone in our society's history.

At that stage, the Irish Draught Horse Society (GB) had not fully harmonised with the parent studbook. It would be fair to say that opinions varied among our members (and on the council) about the best way forward. In September 2011, HSI's Chief Executive, Damian McDonald, and Director of Breeding and Programmes, Alison Corbally, met our council in Birmingham and an agreement was reached on a number of crucial issues.

This meant that the IDHS (GB) studbook could at last take the final steps towards harmonisation with the parent studbook and implement this in time for the mare inspections. After many last minute negotiations and two tour postponements, we finalised the veterinary arrangements with a couple of days to go before the mare tour was due to begin.

Costs

We have peculiar geographical, practical and financial issues here in Britain, with costs ever increasing for our breeders and our society. On the 2010 tour, it took seven hours to drive from the venue in Aberdeenshire back to Cumbria for an overnight stop, a big overhead to inspect just two mares. This year, Scotland was covered more effectively. Dr Charlotte Moore flew straight in from Belfast, inspected the three horses in Scotland and flew home again. British inspectors Norma Grubb and Julie Cornthwaite still had a lengthy journey by car to join her, but the 'fly in, fly out' arrangement proved successful.

The English and Welsh tour was completed by Michael Kirwan, Ellen Walton and John Newborough. Sue Benson provided crucial support with the scoring. Heather Chaplin compiled the paperwork in advance, then joined the team on the busiest day to provide clerical support for the vet. It is clear that, in future, administrative support must be factored into each inspection. Plans have already been made to strengthen this for the 2012 inspections.

The quality of mares brought forward for inspection varied from moderate to good, but some lacked bone. The condition of the mares varied from average to excellent; a few were obese. The presentation and turnout of mares was good, but a number of mares were not adequately prepared for loose schooling. It has been a very steep learning curve for all of us.

Good communication between HSI and the daughter societies is important. As more societies around the world harmonise, this presents many exciting opportunities as well as some challenges.

Here in Britain, we are still on the journey, but we hope that parity of our breed registers will bring positive benefits to breeders in both our countries.

Caroline Powell riding Lenamore (ISH) at Badminton.

20-year-old Lenamore (ISH) on track for Badminton

Ted and Helen Walsh have had tremendous success in the racing industry, training 'Papillon' to win the 2000 English Grand National and 'Commanche Court' to win the Irish Grand National, both ridden by their son, Ruby. Ted also trained 'Rince Ri', who won two Ericsson chases as well as a Pillar Chase and a Power Gold Cup, among a whole host of other successes.

It is less well known that from their stables in Kill, Co. Kildare, the Walshes have also had great success in the sport horse sector, a side interest to their racing and training careers. Speaking about their decision to breed Irish Sport Horse animals, Helen said: "In the breeding industry it is very important to be versatile and to adjust your breeding operation to suit the current market. Twenty years ago, thoroughbred animals weren't making much money and we decided to buy some thoroughbred mares with the aim to breed Irish Sport Horses. As Irish Sport Horses were making good money at the time, it seemed like a sensible idea."

Ted and Helen decided to put these mares in foal, sending them to neighbour Mary McCann's stallions 'Sea Crest' (ID C1) and 'Cruising' (ISH), with the aim of breeding quality Irish Sport Horse performance horses.

Their fleeting encounter with the Irish Sport Horse industry has left a great legacy of success, the most notable being 'Lenamore' by 'Sea Crest' (ID C1) out of 'Karinella' (TB) by 'Vali-yar' (TB). 'Lenamore', aged 20, recently became the most successful British Eventer of all time, after being placed fourth at the Land Rover Burghley Horse Trials in 2011, bringing his total to 2,203 British Eventing points, surpassing the previous title holder, the late Spring Along (ISH).

In 2010, 'Lenamore' was awarded the Horse Sport Ireland award for 'The Competition Horse that Epitomises the Longevity and Durability of the Irish Sport Horse'.

Amazing career

'Lenamore' has had an amazing career, campaigned by New Zealand's Caroline Powell. In 2011 he was also placed sixth at Badminton, while in 2010 he won the Land Rover Burghley Horse Trials and was placed fifth in Badminton. He also competed at the Olympics in Beijing in 2008 where he was placed 20th and in the World Equestrian Games in 2006 where he was placed 26th.

His successes really emphasise the longevity and durability of the Irish Sport Horse in eventing.

Thoroughbred

The requirements for eventing horses have changed over the years, with demanding courses and very technical fences requiring a very unique type of horse to be a top performer.

Speaking on breeding eventing horses, Ted Walsh believes: "Breeding for eventing has really changed over the years. Obviously, the thoroughbred contributes a lot to the sport but I feel that many breeders are just breeding for speed now from the thoroughbred side and are not breeding for the jumping ability and intelligence that is a huge part of eventing. I think that once the thoroughbred is present in the pedigree, the speed to complete the course will be there."

"Breeders need to focus on using sires with great jumping ability and a lot of intelligence as eventing courses are complex and you need a sensible, smart horse to get around successfully. The likes of the old National Hunt horses, with great jumping ability and a quiet nature, are definitely what people need to go back to breeding."

The Walshes have also had great success with 'Stoneybrook' by 'Cruising' (ISH) out of 'Ostend' (TB) by 'Bahrain'

Ted and Helen Walsh

(TB). 'Stoneybrook' has competed at numerous international events at CCI4*, CCI3* and CCI2* level and was competed by Ted and Helen's daughter, Katie, during his early career. Some of 'Stoneybrook's achievements include placing 13th at Blenheim CCI3* and eighth at Punchestown CCI3* in 2007, while in 2004 Katie placed fourth in Punchestown at CCI2* level.

Katie also rode numerous double clears in SJI competitions on 'Stoneybrook' as a young rider at 1.20m level.

The Walshes' mare 'Ostend' also bred 'Hi-Society Party' by Cruising (ISH) who has had tremendous success on the showjumping circuit, accumulating 1,746 SJI points.

Some of 'Hi-Society Party's career highlights include winning at Vejer de la Frontera in Spain twice and at Modena in Italy.

In Ireland he achieved numerous double clears at 1.40 when ridden by Conor Swail.

Another of the Irish Sport Horse successes to come from the Walsh stables is 'Derrynane Lady' by 'Cruising' (ISH) out of 'Missing Lady' (TB), who is currently being campaigned by the Minister for Defence's rider Capt. Michael Kelly, who has notched up a number of double clears at 1.30m and 1.20m.

With the country currently in recession, Ted feels that "it's very important to really look at what the market wants and to aim to produce this. We had great success from taking a chance on a good opportunity many years ago's".

New HSI Voluntary Code of Practice for stallion and mare owners

Horse Sport Ireland has introduced a Voluntary Code of Practice for stallion and mare owners for the upcoming breeding season. The Code of Practice outlines voluntary recommendations to help breeders, in conjunction with their veterinary surgeons, to prevent and control specific equine diseases. Prevention of disease is of the utmost importance for increasing fertility. There may be some costs associated with adhering to the Code of Practice. However, long term it pays off to protect the health of your breeding stock.

The HSI Voluntary Code of Practice covers a number of diseases:

- ☛ CEM (Contagious Equine Metritis)
- ☛ EVA (Equine Viral Arteritis)
- ☛ EIA (Equine Infectious Anaemia)
- ☛ Equine Herpes Virus

CEM

The main venereally transmitted bacterial disease covered in the HSI Code of Practice is CEM (Contagious Equine Metritis). CEM has been found in non-thoroughbreds in Europe and the US and is a Notifiable Disease in Ireland, which means that the Department of Agriculture, Food and the Marine must be notified if the disease is suspected or confirmed.

CLINICAL SIGNS

Stallions that are infected with CEM do not show any clinical signs. In mares, initial exposure to the disease usually results in a large amount of vaginal discharge 12 to 14 days following natural breeding with an infected stallion. Following the initial exposure, there may be no outward signs of disease, but the infection may cause infertility and, on rare occasions, abortion.

Transmission

CEM can be transmitted during covering/teasing and through the use of infected semen (chilled or frozen) or unhygienic procedures.

EVA

Outbreaks of EVA (Equine Viral Arteritis)

have occurred all over the world, including the UK, France and the US. As there is no mandatory testing for EVA before importation from EU member states, there is a constant risk of importing this virus into Ireland. EVA is a Notifiable Disease.

Clinical signs

The clinical signs associated with EVA are extremely variable and range from sub-clinical disease with reduced fertility to severe disease with abortion in pregnant mares and death of young foals. The most commonly observed clinical signs include fever, depression, a decrease in appetite, oedema (swelling) of the limbs, the mammary gland of mares, the scrotum of stallions and around the eye socket, stiffness in gait, inflammation of conjunctiva ('pink eye') and nasal mucous membranes, skin rashes and ocular and nasal discharge. A mare may abort without showing any other clinical signs.

Transmission

Viral transmission occurs primarily by stallions during mating or artificial insemination. Approximately 50% of the stallions that are exposed to the virus become long-term venereal shedders. Such stallions infect every mare they cover.

After exposure to the virus a mare may shed the virus in all of her bodily fluids for up to a month. At the end of this period she is no longer infectious and is safe to breed. However, for the period that she is shedding the virus, she may infect other horses by direct contact or by aerosol (infected droplets from the respiratory tract).

EIA

There is a high incidence of outbreaks of EIA (Equine Infectious Anaemia) in Romania and recent cases in other EU countries indicate that there is a risk of the virus spreading from mainland Europe.

In 2006 an outbreak occurred in Ireland and more than 1,500 horses were subject to movement restrictions by the

The HSI Code of Practice

- Vaccinate all pregnant mares against equine herpesvirus (EHV)
- Vaccinate stallions against equine arteritis virus (EVA)
- Stallion owners should request that mares are blood tested for EVA and equine infectious anaemia (EIA) prior to arrival on their premises
- Mares and stallions are tested for venereal diseases at the start of the breeding season

For the importation of horses or semen it is recommended that:

- Prior to importation, stallions should be tested for EVA and bacterial venereal diseases
- Imported semen should be certified as EVA and pathogen free
- Horses are tested for equine infectious anaemia (EIA) prior to importation

Department of Agriculture. EIA is a Notifiable Disease.

Clinical signs

The clinical signs of EIA are extremely variable. In Ireland in 2006 some horses were acutely affected and died from the disease, while others showed no clinical signs.

The acute form of the disease is characterised by fever, depression, increased heart and respiratory rates, incoordination and rapid weight loss. Other non-specific signs such as nasal discharge may be observed during the initial episode of the disease.

Chronic cases are characterised by recurring cycles of anaemia, swellings, weight loss and loss of energy, interspersed with periods of normality. Recurrences are often stress related. Some animals show no clinical signs or are so mildly affected that their condition goes unnoticed by their owner.

Transmission

Transmission of EIA usually occurs by the transfer of blood or secretions containing infected cells. The virus can be transmitted by flies (EIA is sometimes referred to as 'Swamp Fever' as it is most prevalent in warm, wet areas where flies are abundant). Transmission also occurs through contaminated needles, teeth rasps, stomach tubes, twitches, curry combs or any other instruments which may cause abrasion.

EQUINE HERPESVIRUS

Both Equine Herpesvirus 1 and 4 (EHV-1 and 4) cause abortion in mares and are common in horse populations worldwide. Sporadic and multiple abortions due to EHV-1 infection occur during each breeding season. In some cases, all of the pregnant mares on a premises abort. The virus is occasionally associated with a neurological disease, which can be fatal. EHV-4 is a less serious pathogen than EHV-1, but is associated with the sporadic cases of abortion in most breeding seasons.

Clinical signs

Most EHV associated abortions occur without any warning signs and during the last third of pregnancy. Abortions sometimes occur as 'red-bag', where there is premature separation of the placenta. Foals may be carried to term and born alive but infected. Such foals are usually sick at birth or develop respiratory disease within 48 hours. They may be jaundiced.

EHV-1 is also associated with a neurological syndrome which can be fatal or necessitate euthanasia on welfare grounds. Clinical signs vary from mild incoordination followed by complete recovery to fatal paralysis. The most common signs are hindlimb incoordination and urinary incontinence.

Transmission

EHV-1 and 4 are spread by the respiratory, and not the venereal route. Mares in mixed yards are most at risk as horses or ponies can be exposed to the virus at race meetings, shows, hunts or sales and serve as a source of infection for brood mares.

Foetuses aborted as a result of EHV infection are heavily contaminated with the virus. Thus, multiple abortions often follow the abortion of a foetus in a field where several pregnant mares are grazing.

FEI World Breeding Championships for Young horses compete at global level

Each year, three World Championships for young horses are held. The dressage championships take place in Verden, Germany, each August, the showjumping championships in Lanaken, Belgium, each September, and the eventing championships run each October in Le Lions d'Angers in France.

The three championships are the most prestigious competitions for young horses competing in their relevant disciplines and are run by the international equestrian federation, the FEI, and the World Breeding Federation for Sport Horses (WBFSH) with WBFSH-member studbooks from around the world being invited to send horses to compete.

Showjumping

In 2011, 15 horses were selected to represent the Irish Sport Horse Studbook at the Jumping Championships in Lanaken. The World Championships are run in three age categories: five-year-old, six-year-old and seven-year-old.

The championships are run over four days of competition, with qualifying classes taking place on the first two days. The Saturday of the show sees the consolation classes taking place, for those horses that have not managed to qualify for Sunday's finals. Then on Sunday morning, in the main arena, the three World Championship Finals take place. With a total of almost 800 horses competing for medals across three categories, it was very encouraging that five of the 15 horses representing the Irish Sport Horse Studbook qualified for Sunday's finals.

Two of those Irish Sport Horses went on to finish in the top 10 in the World Championship Finals – with Derryinver Luxury Cruise (ISH) and Harry Marshall (IRL) finishing in ninth place in the six-year-old final and Oldtown KC (ISH) and Trevor Breen (IRL) finishing in tenth place in the seven-year-old final. In addition, NLS Coole Al Clover (ISH), who, in 2010, took gold in the six-year-old championship with Ireland's Clem McMahon, went on to finish in fourth place in the seven-year-old final with new rider Nina Fagerstrom (FIN).

Afterwards, Irish Chef d'Equipe and Coach Comdt. John Ledingham said: "Irish horses at Lanaken represented the breed very well. Declan Egan went clear in the first round of the five-year-old final on Coco Chanelle, but in a very fast class had to go for time in the second round and had an unfortunate fence on the floor."

"In the six-year-old final, Harry Marshall and Derryinver Luxury Cruise were one of nine clears in the first round but, in the jump-off, Harry had a real go at the clock in an attempt to win the class but had the last fence down to finish in ninth overall.

"Trevor Breen, with the approved stallion Oldtown KC, had the first fence down and this denied him a place in the jump-off but I believe we are looking at a future Superleague Nations' Cup horse here."

Eventing

In October, 11 Irish Sport Horses were sent to represent the Studbook at the Eventing Championships in Le Lion d'Angers. WBFSH-member studbooks from around the world are invited to send horses to Le Lion d'Angers to compete in two age categories: six-year-old and seven-year-old. The scores from the two competitions are then added together to decide on the leading studbook.

Irish Sport Horses yet again excelled at Le Lion d'Angers, with the Irish Sport Horse Studbook finishing a very close second to the Royal Warmblood Studbook of the Netherlands (KWPN), which was crowned as leading studbook. A total of 11 studbooks were represented. Holding the overnight lead on Saturday, the Irish Studbook was beaten by just 1.12 penalty points after the showjumping phase.

British rider Piggy French finished third in the seven-year-old class with the Killealy Spring gelding Killealy Brief (ISH), bred by Patrick Kavanagh, while fellow British rider Nicola Wilson was placed in fifth, with the Newmarket Venture mare Annie Clover (ISH), which was bred by James Bradley.

Best of the Irish

Best of the Irish riders in this category was Steven Smith and James Fogarty's Olympic Lux gelding Good Lux Jack (ISH), who finished in 16th, with Brian Morrison not far behind in 18th on PJ Hegarty's mare Fenya's Elegance (ISH).

In the six-year-old category, the best placed Irish horse was the Maltstriker gelding Atlantico Domino (ISH), bred by David Browne and ridden by Britain's Tanya Kyle, in eighth, while Austin O'Connor was the highest-ranked Irish rider, finishing in 14th place on the Master Imp gelding Kilpatrick Knight (ISH), bred by Joan J. Dolan.

Young Breeders Programme

Are you aged 14 to 25 with an avid interest in performance horses?

Wendy Conlon, BSc.Eq.Sc.,
Teagasc Equine Specialist Adviser

The Young Breeders Programme is aimed at those between the ages of 14 and 25, who are interested in assessing, exhibiting and breeding performance horses. They do not have to be breeders themselves or come from an equestrian background. An avid interest and an eagerness to participate and learn is all that is required.

The concept of 'Young Breeders' was first introduced here in 2005 and has since been encouraged and developed by Teagasc and Horse Sport Ireland. The first National Young Breeders Competition took place in June 2006. A world championship competition occurs every second year, with the most recent taking place in France 2011 and the next planned for Sweden 2013.

Key areas

The Young Breeders Championships are based on five key areas:

- Theory (stable management, sport, breeding, feeding, health, welfare)
- Assessment of conformation
- Assessment of loose movement and loose jumping
- Presentation of horses in hand using the triangle system
- Turnout of horses

All of the above are important as a foundation for those with an interest in developing their knowledge of the horse. These skills are of huge benefit for many equestrian activities, including purchasing a new horse/pony; deciding about which mares/stallions to use for breeding; assessing offspring; presenting horses for inspection, sale, show or competition.

Young people are encouraged to attend training days and become familiar with what's involved.

Alongside the core principles of the competition, training days also focus on developing general knowledge through audiences with riders and industry professionals.

Opportunities to assess foals, young and experienced horses, and trips to the sales with a mentor, have been features of the Young Breeders Training Programme.

There is an opportunity for the senior young breeders (19 to 25 year olds), who have actively attended training sessions, to partake in further training to become an arena party member for loose jumping at HSI mare and stallion inspections. This training begins in the spring, with Declan McArdle of Teagasc.

Participants are trained in all aspects of arena party activity, including setting up a loose schooling lane safely with the appropriate fence distances; correct body positioning; use of voice to get a horse around safely and calmly.

Successful candidates can achieve FETAC minor award accreditation. The training is integrated with the HSI mare inspections and candidates must pass an exam to get onto the panel.

To remain on the panel, they must complete an annual refresher course. The bonus is that candidates are paid a fee for their work at inspections.

The aspiration is that these young people develop the skills and knowledge to provide their services as arena party members, not just for inspections but for future shows.

In addition, participants are in a better position to produce young horses for clients, and themselves too.

Irish-based stallions dominate British eventing young horse tables

Each year British Eventing produces tables of the leading sires of young event horses competing in the UK. Irish-based stallions were very prominent in these young horse sire tables for the 2011 season (see page 29).

The tables, which were published last December, show that 11 of the top 15 stallions of seven and eight-year-old event horses in the UK are the progeny of stallions standing, or who stood in Ireland, while eight of the top 15 sires of five and six-year-olds are Irish-based.

Three Irish-based stallions featured in the top three in the seven and eight-year-old table: Cult Hero (TB), Master Imp (TB) and Limerick (HOLST). Three Irish-based stallions also featured in the five and seven-year-old table, with Harlequin Du Carel (SF) coming out on top, Accondy (TB) in third and Ghareeb (TB) in fourth.

HSI chairman Joe Walsh said the results were encouraging and offered further evidence that Ireland is the country to come to when buying event horses.

Eventing market

"The eventing market in the UK is a huge outlet for Irish-bred horses and the prominence of Irish-bred stallions in the tables shows how well the Irish horses are doing in the UK," he said.

"One issue that I would highlight is the need for sport horse breeders to consider using thoroughbred sires on their mares. Only 12% of foals born last year were sired by thoroughbred stallions.

Thoroughbred sires

"I hear complaints from time to time that we don't have enough quality thoroughbreds available to the sport horse sector. However, I am not sure that this is the case.

"It is probably fair to say that we don't have a lot of proven thoroughbred sires and it is a great pity that Master Imp and Cult Hero, who appear on these lists, have passed away.

"However, there are a number of thoroughbred stallions in the country and other stallions with a lot of thoroughbred blood. The thoroughbred percentage in stallions is now available on CapallOir."

13 Irish-breds on 2012 Eventing Squad

In late December, Team Ireland Equestrian's Eventing High Performance Manager, Ginny Elliot, named a provisional squad of 12 riders and 14 horses that will participate in a squad training programme in January and February 2012. From the 14 horses listed for the provisional squad, 11 are Irish Sport Horses and a further two are Irish-bred Thoroughbreds.

Regional breeder meetings

In October 2011, Horse Sport Ireland and Teagasc held four regional breeder meetings, under the heading 'Breeding for Purpose – Making the Right Decisions', to update breeders on developments and hear their views on breeding matters.

Speaking prior to the meetings, Horse Sport Ireland Chairman Joe Walsh said: "As well as being informative, the meetings will be an opportunity for breeders and those involved in the sector to air their views or ask questions about breeding policy and other matters."

Speakers at the meetings included Alison Corbally, Horse Sport Ireland Director of Breeding & Programmes; Wendy Conlon, Teagasc Equine Specialist Adviser; Barry O'Connor, O'Connor/Swail stables ('Breeding requirements for the modern showjumping market'); and Chris Ryan, producer of Irish eventers ('Breeding the Irish eventer').
