Selection Panel Summary: This horse has a heavy head-neck connection loaded on a straight shoulder. He is back of the knee and tied in at the elbow. He has adequate Irish Draught characteristics. He has a reasonable walk but very limited extension in his trot. His canter was short and heavy on the forearm with little use of his shoulder. He was heavy and ponderous in his jump. Overall this is a big horse with a good girth but has areas of weakness in his conformation that transfer to his movement.
