

HSI Environmental Testing Scheme 2025

Horse Sport Ireland (HSI) are delighted to re-launch the environmental testing scheme for breeders/owners who wish to determine the suitability of their environment for equine breeding and production. This scheme is funded by the Department of Agriculture, Food, and the Marine (DAFM) by National Breeding Services.

This scheme has been designed to help prevent enteric and respiratory disease in young foals. The scheme involves a farm visit by a microbiologist and/or environmental scientist to sample various aspects of the applicants breeding premises (foaling stables, foal paddocks, water and fodder). These samples will be analysed and reported back to breeders with regards to the hygiene status of the communal areas and the presence of any pathogens in the environment and the quality of forage. This preventative approach is more cost effective than being reactive and can greatly reduce treatment, loss of time in development of the animals, labour costs and loss of breeding outcomes for stallions and mares.

Currently this service is offered by the Irish Equine Centre (IEC) and is widely utilised and subscribed to in the thoroughbred industry. This scheme has been shown to reduce the incidence of disease in young foals by identifying any disease-causing microbes in communal areas, water, and forage, and rectifying any issues which may have arisen.

Breeders/owners will have the opportunity to apply to participate in the scheme by completing an online application only. This scheme is open to breeders with a minimum of one breeding mare or stallion under 20 years of age whom are Irish bred as documented in their studbook passport OR registered/endorsed in a DAFM approved studbook. Funding will be allocated on a first come first served basis up to the maximum funding allocation and scheme eligibility. All applicants must provide a valid Equine Premises Registration Number (EPRN). The scheme is worth €460 (excluding VAT), and is subsidised through National Breeding Services, applicants are required to pay €125 to Horse Sport Ireland for this scheme.

The objective of this scheme is to provide information on:

- The hygiene status of the main areas (foaling stables and stocks)
- Pathogen burden of the nursery paddocks
- Water quality
- Forage quality in terms of hygiene status for moulds and mycotoxins which could lead to fertility/health issues and nutritional quality
